"All Above Board," the second musical which SCADS has sponsored on campus, has its debut on January 14, Saturday, at 8:15. At this time the college will be treated to a sparkling show with original musical numbers and dance routines. This pre-exam presentation includes in its cast many students and faculty from both Smith and Amherst. Among the interesting list of characters are Mr. Madeira in the role of a filibustering Senator ; Mr. DeNood as a cowboy transplanted from his native wild and wooly west to the high and rough seas. Mr. Gilardino is a Russian straight from the Kremlin and loaded with all the newest scandal. Two ladies with Arsenic-and-Old-Lace tendencies are present in the forms of Darcy Fink, 52, and Jane Harper, 1950, while Peter Soderberg, of Amherst Dramatic Association, is cast as a very mad inventor.

The show will put you in the right, light mood for exams. You ^{TOMORROW} may get tickets ~~next~~^e Friday morning at Seelye Hall for 85 cents. The seats are unreserved and tickets will also be sold at the door on the evening of the performance.
